Q1.1 Welcome! Understanding the Decision Making of Evacuees Thank you for your interest in this research. Your response is highly valuable in helping us understand how people make decisions in stressful situations. This survey will take approximately 25 minutes. The next section will consist of a consent form. You do not have to answer all question, you may skip any questions you do not wish to answer, and you may terminate your participation at any time without a penalty. Only one survey is permitted per household. A drawing will be held for the chance to win one of ten $250 Amazon Gift Cards. Not only do we hope to gain valuable information about your decision-making process, we hope that you will also gain insights into how you and your household make decisions. We kindly request that you complete the entire survey and complete all questions. Without some information, we may be unable to use your response in your study. Thank you!

Q2.1 UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, BERKELEYSTUDY INFORMATION SHEET and CONSENT FORM – SURVEY (Online) Understanding the Decision Making of Evacuees CPHS #2018-11-11624
Doctoral student Stephen Wong (with Professor Susan Shaheen and Professor Joan Walker), from the Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering at the University of California, Berkeley (UC Berkeley), is conducting a research project. You are invited to participate in this study because of your experience in the recent evacuation process for the Carr Wildfire. The researchers will be obtaining your consent for this project. Why is this study being done?Disasters have a major impact on the built environment and many situations require the movement of people away from harm to reduce risk and ensure human safety. This evacuation of people is an integral part of emergency management plans. Despite advances in transportation management strategies, evacuations continue to cause congested conditions on transportation networks. At the same time, vulnerable populations frequently lack adequate resources for evacuation and sheltering, and a large proportion of the population do not comply with evacuation orders. As part of this study, we are analyzing how individuals make decisions after receiving a mandatory or recommended evacuation order. What will happen if I take part in this research study?We will ask you survey questions related to your experience with evacuating or not evacuating your residence during the Carr Wildfire. These questions will include demographic information about you and your household, the address of your household, the choices you made during the event, and your opinions on the use of sharing economy platforms (i.e., technology platforms that allow the sharing of goods such as transportation and housing). If the survey includes questions you do not wish to or cannot answer, you may either choose to skip those questions, or you may choose not to participate in the study. All pieces of personal information and personal information of others will be kept as confidential as possible.

Only one member from each immediate household may take the survey. You may fill out the survey at a time and place of your choosing. How long will I be in the research study?The survey will take approximately 25 minutes. Are there any potential benefits if I participate?Participants will not directly benefit from the research. However, the results of the research may contribute to an improved understanding of individuals' decision making in disaster situations. Will I be compensated for my time?A participant will be entered into a drawing if the participant 1) is contacted about this research, and 2) provides an email address or home address. These individuals will be eligible to win 1 of 10 Amazon Gift Cards valued at $250 each. The drawing will take place when the last survey is received. For any drawing, the odds of winning depend on how many people have a ticket entered in the drawing. As we do not know how many people will participate in this study-related drawing, we cannot predict what will be the odds of winning a prize. Individuals who win will be sent the gift cards within two weeks of the drawing through email or through their physical home address. Individuals who decline this consent form or who choose to skip questions throughout the survey will also be eligible to be entered into the drawing. However, an email address or home address must still be provided in order to send the gift card if the individual wins. Are there any other parts to this research?You will have the opportunity to indicate if you are interested in being a part of a focus group. Only individuals who mark their interest in a focus group AND provide an email address, telephone number, or physical address will be eligible. When the surveys are completed, individuals will be chosen at random to participate in a focus group. If you are chosen, you will be contacted within 3 months from the end of the surveys. Are there any potential risks or discomforts that I can expect from this study?If you experienced stress or anxiety during the evacuation process, you may remember some of these feelings and you may find it uncomfortable to answer certain questions. However, the questions are phrased to minimize any lasting negative effects. There is also a risk of a breach of confidentiality. This risk has been minimized by using encrypted password-protected data storage and by omitting exact street addresses in any publications or reports on the research.
Will information about me and my participation be kept confidential?Your information will be kept as confidential as possible. Confidentiality will be maintained by using encrypted password-protected data storage on the web. Only the primary researchers will have access to this data. After submitting responses, respondents can protect their privacy by clearing their browser's history, cache, cookies, and other browsing data (warning: this will log them out of online services). Confidentiality cannot be guaranteed since data will be transmitted online and data will be stored online. How long will data be retained?Data will be retained for at most three years after the last survey has been conducted. What are my rights if I take part in this study?· You can choose whether or not you want to be in this study, and you may withdraw your consent and discontinue participation at any time. Participation in research is completely voluntary.· Whatever decision you make, there will be no penalty to you or loss of benefits to which you are otherwise entitled.· You may refuse to answer any questions that you do not want to answer and still remain in the study. Whom can I contact if I have questions about this study?The research team: If you have any questions, comments or concerns about the research, you can talk to one of the researchers. Please contact: Susan Shaheen, Professor (Faculty Sponsor)sashaheen@tsrc.berkeley.edu or 510-642-9168 Joan Walker, Professor (Faculty Sponsor)joanwalker@berkeley.edu or 510-642-6897 Stephen Wong, Doctoral
